Harriman Favors a Full Scale Rights Program

Little Rock, June 20 (P) — Presidential aspirant Averell Harriman forged into the Solid South yesterday with the statement he believes in national civil rights legislation and the Democratic party must endorse such legislation if it is to win.

Harriman told more than 100 persons here that the question of civil rights is not just a Southern but that it exists in other sections of the country also.

He said he not only believes in national civil rights legislation as a matter of principle but added that he thinks the Democratic party cannot win without endorsing such legislation.

The tall, lean New York millionaire told his audience — which included 42 of the 64 delegates and alternates to the National Democratic Convention — that "the Democratic party ought not to go back on any of its principles — including that of the FEPC."

He referred to a plank in the 1948 Democratic platform which endorsed a Federal Employment Practices Commission which would empower to set up regulations designed to prevent employment discrimination because of race or other factors.

1. He disagrees with the front running candidate for the Republican nomination, Sen. Taft of Ohio, on "practically every subject" and believes Taft's foreign policy would be "disastrous."

2. He has a "great respect and personal liking" for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower but "it's no secret that General Eisenhower doesn't know much about domestic matters."

3. He thinks Tennessee Senator Kefauver, whom Harriman thrashed 4 to 1 in a Democratic "popularity poll" in the District of Columbia Tuesday, is a "fine senator and I hope he continues so."

Harriman was scheduled to take a plane for Des Moines this morning after breakfasting with Gov. McMath.

Truman Gets Bill Expanding Marine Corps

Washington, June 20 (AP) — A bill raising the size of the Marine Corps, and giving the Leathernecks more independence and influence in the military establishment, landed on President Truman's desk today.

There was nothing to indicate whether Truman — who came off second-best in one fanned row with the Marines — would sign the measure into law or risk another controversy by rejecting it.

The President and the Marine Corps tangled last over a 1950 letter in which Truman said the Marines had a propaganda machine equal to Stalin's. Some ex-Marines happened to be holding a convention at the time, and raised the roof. Truman apologized to them in person.

Considerable enthusiasm — nobody used the word propaganda this time — on the part of ex-Marines in Congress put steam behind the new bill which whipped through both Houses yesterday by unanimous voice votes.

Thereupon, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) a wounded and decorated Marine officer in World War II, congratulated Congress.

Douglas said the bill, of which he was a sponsor, would keep the Joint Chiefs of Staff from scuttling the Marine Corps as a combat organization. That, he said, had been urged by some Army and Air Force generals.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) delayed Senate approval for a little while. He wanted to know if the bill would let the President use the Marines as a kind of private army any place in the world whenever he felt like it.

Sens. Long (D-La.) and Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) assured him it would do nothing of the sort. Any such impression, they said, could be traced to a loosely-worded report by the House Armed Services Committee.

Long, a Navy officer during the war, skipped the measure on the Senate floor.

As originally introduced, the bill would have given the Marine command status on the Joint Chiefs of staff equal to that of the Navy, Air Force and Army members. The joint chiefs opposed this, all objections, was worked out.

The compromise, now past Congress and resting on Truman's desk, would do these things for the Marines:

1. Put their commandant on the joint chiefs with a voice in policy or strategy matters that "directly concern the Marine Corps."

2. Assure them independence from the Navy, of which they are a part as far as size and organization are concerned.

Hope Station Prepares for Visiting Day

Farm people from southwestern Arkansas will gather here at the University of Arkansas' Fruit and Truck Branch Experiment Station this week. On Friday, the Station will hold its twenty-fourth Annual Study Day, and on Saturday the annual study day for Negro farm families will take place.

The programs will get underway at 9:30 each morning, with discussions scheduled on truck crops, fruits, pastures, forestry, and over head irrigation. These will be held in the experimental areas, so that visitors will be able to see the research work going on. Members of the College of Agriculture staff will be in charge of the five steps.

Special demonstrations will be held on the Station Campus each day from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. They will be on First Aid for the farm, farm safety, farmstead landscaping, and electricity on the farm. Both men and women visitors are invited to attend these demonstrations.

Different afternoon programs have been planned for the two events. On Friday, there will be discussions on a sanitary farm water supply, wild life in Arkansas, and the program of the Arkansas Agricultural Experiment Station. On Saturday afternoon, in addition to the address on the Arkansas Experiment Station by associate director Dwight Isely, there will be group singing and talent numbers by members of the audience.

Lunch will be available each day on the Station grounds, according to Cecil M. Bittle, assistant director of the Station. He and other members of the Station staff are in charge of the day's arrangements.

Reds Resume Assaults on Hill Line

Seoul, June 20 (P) — Chinese Communists striking behind a heavy artillery barrage, resumed their assaults late tonight on strategic T-Bone Hill, 50 miles north of Seoul.

The Communists had broken off the attacks Wednesday after suffering at least 2,000 casualties in six days of futile slugging. The Allied positions on part of the hill dominate one invasion road to Seoul.

A brief front line dispatch said only that the Chinese had launched another attack just before midnight. It did not give the size of the attacking force. The Reds previously had used about 750 men in each attack.

Revival of ground action coincided with new clashes in the air. Six U. S. Sabre jet pilots said they destroyed two and damaged two of six Communist propeller type planes just south of the Manchurian border.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said the two damaged planes may have been destroyed.

Workers Return at Pine Bluff

Pine Bluff, June 20 (AP) — At least half of the night shift returned to work last night at the multimillion dollar federal construction project here, a spokesman said.

Approximately 4,000 construction workers were idle at the secret project when picket lines were set up by members of the AFL Carpenters, Millwrights and Joiners Union earlier yesterday. A jurisdictional dispute apparently caused the trouble.

The spokesman, who declined to be identified by name or organization, said an even larger percentage of the day shift probably would go back to work today.

Details of a meeting of business agents in Little Rock yesterday were not disclosed. The agents, representing other crafts working on the projects, were to have determined means by which they could send members across the picket lines.

Arms Production Halt Seen in Three Weeks

Washington, June 20 (AP) — Industry and the military say the nation's arms production and everything from jet engines to atom bombs and nuclear submarines will come to a virtual halt within a few weeks if the steel strike continues.

A survey of manufacturers and defense experts today showed that in general enough steel is on hand to keep out production until some time in August, but that in some instances the impact of the steel production stoppage already is being felt.

The situation goes beyond the non-delivery of finished weapons themselves. If the hard steels needed for tools can't be had, the weapons can't be made. The effect of that can be far-reaching.

Fulton Negro Victim of Hit, Run Driver

A 47-year-old Negro was killed about 9:30 Thursday night on the Clipper bridge, just beyond Fulton on Highway 87, apparently the victim of a hit and run driver. Radioman Sparks of the Arkansas State Police Station here said today.

The man was listed as Sam Bell reportedly a resident of Fulton. He was believed to have been killed instantly when struck by a car while he was walking across the bridge.

Investigating officers Gibson and Walker of Texarkana said the vehicle which hit Bell was apparently traveling west. A search for the hit and run car continues.

The body was removed to Stamps for burial.

Tax Reduction Promises Are Blasted

Detroit, June 20 (P) Sen. Estes Kefauver, campaigning here for the Democratic presidential nomination, last night attacked the tax-cutting promises of Republican Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Addressing a Detroit AFL labor meeting, Kefauver said the announced intentions of Eisenhower and Taft to cut federal taxes were "the result of day dreams arising from sheer ignorance of the financial problems of our government or callous efforts to obtain votes by promises that cannot possibly be kept."

The Tennessee senator's third visit to Michigan this year was another attempt to woo the state's 40-delegates to the Democratic National Convention next month.

He was welcomed at the AFL meeting by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, to whom the 40-delegates currently are pledged.

The governor welcomed Kefauver "with a great deal of pride" as one who had "gone to the hearts of the people, carrying the Democratic party's message." Williams did not commit himself on convention support of anyone.

Kefauver quoted Eisenhower as promising a 40 billion dollar cut in the federal budget "within a very short period of time," and Taft as promising "a straight 15 per cent cut in taxes."

He called both "tempting statements to a tax-weary country," then added:

"Perhaps someone ought to have the kindness to explain some of the financial facts of life about the federal budget to the general Congress. Eisenhower may be partially excused. But not Sen. Taft."

"Sen. Taft is a student. We may disagree with his judgments. But none of us needs doubt that when he promises a 15 per cent across-the-board tax cut, where that cut is coming from. He knows that it must come out of the defense effort and our obligation to the nations, and no where else."

"I'd like to see taxes cut. I hope to see a cut. But let us win the peace first and then talk about cutting taxes."

Kefauver viewed Russia as a threat to the free world, and declared that if a Republican Congress is elected this year "it will return the same reactionary element to Washington which refused to let us win the peace after we had won the war."

He advocated repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and passage of a new labor relations law "that would be fair to both labor and management."

The Tennessee congressman also vociferously opposed the poll tax, and said he hoped to see a Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Controls Lifted on Consumer Items By House

Washington, June 20 (P) — The House today voted to end price controls on virtually all consumer goods. The vote was subject to reconsideration.

By a vote of 146 to 88, the House decided there should be no price controls on items which are not rationed or allocated.

Controls also would be lifted on items which have been selling at below ceiling prices for at least three months.

At present no goods are rationed and only a few metals are being allocated.

The effect of the amendment, if it remains in the bill, would be to remove just about all price controls or force the Office of Price Stabilization to order rationing of things it wants kept under price ceilings.

McGranery Fires Aide in Kansas City

Washington, June 20 (P) — Atty. Gen. McGranery says the firing of the U. S. district attorney for Kansas is just one step in a methodical housecleaning the Justice Department is conducting "in our own quiet little way."

McGranery, in office only three weeks, announced yesterday that Federal Prosecutor Lester Luther 83, had been dismissed by President Truman at his request because of evidence the Kansas accepted a $2,000-out of a $4,000 fee in a pending tax dispute case.

In a letter to McGranery, a file of photostatic copies of canceled checks and documents, McGranery told newsmen that he finds evidence of any other misconduct he will let the public know about it immediately.

"It will be put right on top of the table," said the new attorney general, who has been given the role of government cleanup chief. "In our own quiet little way, that's how we are going to clean this thing up."

McGranery said a special grand jury will be called promptly at Topeka, Kan., to study evidence Luther shared in fees paid to another federal employee, Nicholas Lopez, for representing the Topeka Company of Toledo in a tax case.

Luther told reporters at his Topeka home that he and Lopez shared in fees from the Topeka Company. He said he did not know Lopez was a complete surprise.

Lopez, who resigned his job as a trial attorney in the Justice Department, would make no comment.

But Luther said the money they received was for giving legal advice in connection with a business construction job, a case now pending in a tax case.

"Such a job is permissible under the law, and the attorney general's manual of regulations," Luther said. "It is regular practice in the district attorneys to do jobs like this."

In Toledo, John J. Kendrick, attorney for the Topeka Company, said Lopez had represented him on special legal work that never in a tax case. He said he did not know Lopez.

Prior to yesterday's action, McGranery had accepted the resignation of three — exactly one-half of the top aides left over from the regime of Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath.

McGrath was ousted by Truman after a disclosure of corruption in Newbold, Mo., where he was a judge. McGrath's resignation was accepted by the president after he had been in office for less than a year.

English is the most widely spoken language in the world, but it is taken German in the United States in diplomatic circles, according to a dispatch from London.

Phillips Band Has Varied Program

"Irrepressible" is a one-word description of Teddy Phillips, young but silvery-haired conductor who brings his modern-style orchestra to Hope to play for a dance, Wednesday, June 25 at 8 o'clock in Coliseum.

Phillips writes many of his own arrangements. He leads the band. He plays an outstanding alto saxophone; doubles on clarinet, flute, and several other instruments. He has composed a number of tunes, some of which he has recorded. He is a fountain of energy on the bandstand, an animated front-runner who rarely relaxes; "mugging" with a vocalist, talking to dancers playing frequently on one of a variety of instruments.

It is this enthusiasm, combined with the satiny perfection of his dance music, that has dubbed Teddy Phillips as the "boy to watch" in the newer crop of name bands.

Chicago dancers rate his band as high, as evidenced by several repeat engagements at the world-famous Aragon and Triunfo ballrooms during the past few years. Nightly air shots via Mutual Broadcasting Station have increased Phillips' circle of fans to nationwide proportions.

Basing his band's style on a full, rich ensemble sound, contrasted by occasional solos on alto sax or the celeste, Phillips insures each arrangement of having first, dance appeal to those who delight in a firm, relaxed and easy-to-dance-to beat; second, an appeal for those who enjoy melodic arrangements of old and new favorites; and third, entertainment appeal for those watching, dancing, or listening on the air. To accomplish this, he spices his program with vocal and comedy presentations.

Table reservations are limited. Bob Shivers, Livestock Show manager announced. For reservations call 7-9720 and tickets are now on sale at Cox's Drug Store.

Candidates Have Wide Speakings

By the Associated Press

All five candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor either spoke Thursday or last night or laid the groundwork for future speeches.

Rep. Boyd Tackett of Nashville told gatherings in Stamps, Buckner, Bradley and Fayetteville that "ripe plums" from highway equipment dealers and contractors are why politicians keep control of the Highway Department.

He said "I will not accept one penny of financial backing from road equipment dealers or contractors."

Gov. McMath, a third term candidate, spoke in Marianna yesterday afternoon. And Jack Holt, Little Rock attorney and former attorney general, again promised no increased taxes in a speech at Berryville last night.

Holt also announced that he will speak Saturday, June 26, at a full scale political rally in Marianna the same day he opens his campaign officially at Little Rock.

Atty. Gen. Ike Murry, another candidate, said he will speak at a Perryville, Ark., rally on Sunday, June 28. A former U. S. district judge for the Middle Tennessee district, Murry is a former member of the Tennessee state legislature and was in the Tennessee state legislature for 12 years.

Sen. Robert A. Taft, another candidate, said he will speak at a Fayetteville, Ark., rally on Sunday, June 28. A former U. S. senator from Ohio, Taft is a former member of the Tennessee state legislature and was in the Tennessee state legislature for 12 years.

Swede Cabinet Meets, Russia Rejects Note

Stockholm, Sweden, June 20 (AP) — The Swedish Cabinet met today to study the latest Russian blast in the flurry of angry notes exchanged between the two nations following the shooting down of a Swedish flying boat by Soviet jet fighters.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Gromyko handed the Russian message to Swedish Ambassador Rolf Rohlman last night in Moscow.

It emphatically charged the Swedish version of the shooting incident, which has aroused a storm of anti-Russian emotion in this traditionally neutral country, and demanded an end to all Swedish violations of Soviet frontiers.

The cabinet immediately protested to Moscow, claiming that the Catalina had been unharmed and kept miles from Soviet territory. The Russians claim their territorial waters extend 12 nautical miles from shore.

The Russians countercharged on Tuesday that the plane had flown over Soviet boundaries and had begun the shooting which resulted in its being downed.

The Swedes angrily rejected these charges Wednesday and repeated their claim that the plane had been unharmed and was international waters.

The latest Russian note declared that the facts and cry of all foundations. It also demanded that "violations of the Soviet frontiers should not take place in the future."

The Swedish Foreign Office admitted today that Swedish planes had flown over Russian territory twice during the week of June 13-15.

Wednesday, the Stockholm government also admitted a Swedish plane had trespassed over Soviet territory on June 13.

There was little immediate reaction to the new Soviet note, probably because it was received here at a late hour. But the conservative Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet declared:

"The new Russian note, unfortunately, must be taken to mean that the Russians want to maintain and increase their isolation between the Soviet Union and the rest of the world."

Tornado Victims Receive $837,077

Little Rock, June 20 (AP) — White County's victims received $837,077 of an $837,077 total distributed to Arkansas by the American Red Cross following the tornadoes of March 21.

Mrs. Elma Boone, Red Cross state relations representative, said yesterday in a final report to Gov. McMath that none of the injured remain in hospitals. A number still are convalescing at their homes, however.

Disaster relief work also was undertaken in the counties of Mississippi, Crook, Faulkner, Howard, Jackson, Lenoir, Polk, Saline, and Woodruff.

The storm left 110 persons dead and 702 with major injuries and 702 with minor injuries.

Ike to Huddle With Hoffman on Key Issues

Denver, June 20 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower arranged to huddle today with Paul G. Hoffman, one of his principal advisers, before flying to Texas tomorrow for a speech which a friend said will be a "rip snorter."

The friends of the general who made the comment asked that his name not be used. He declined to amplify the remark but it was evident Eisenhower intends to act at Dallas on the Texas delegate situation. Groups contesting for delegate seats at the GOP National Convention represent the general and Sen. Robert A. Taft, his principal rival for the GOP presidential nomination. The Republican National Committee will consider the contest.

Eisenhower spent much of yesterday working on material he will use in his talk at Dallas Saturday night at 8:30 p.m. EST and in other talks and news conferences at Denker Tex. Saturday, and Las Vegas, Nev., Sunday.

Hoffman's name was not placed on his general's announced schedule until last night. Even then aides said they did not know when he would arrive. Later, Arthur Vandenberg Jr. said Hoffman was flying to Denver, arriving this morning.

The name of Gov. Frank Barnett of Wyoming also was added to the general's schedule for today. Wyoming delegates, originally listed as six for Taft, two for Eisenhower and four uncommitted, saw the general Tuesday. Afterward, a spokesman said the delegation might split evenly between the two candidates for policy reasons.

The candidate arranged to rejoin the Western Republican delegates after his conference with Hoffman. Idaho delegates had a talk with him this afternoon with Dr. Commerce announced yesterday that Rep. Wilbur Mills has confirmed the President's appearance here.

Malik Ready to Charge Germ Warfare

United Nations, N. Y., June 19 (AP) — Jacob A. Malik readied a double-propelled propaganda attack in which he was expected today to accuse the United States of using germ warfare in Korea and keeping 14 nations out of the United Nations.

Western delegates agreed these were the main points Malik would try to put across in discussing the two items he has set for security council consideration this afternoon.

As worded by Malik the proposed Soviet resolutions appeared harmless enough. The first would "appeal to states to accept and ratify the Geneva Protocol of 1925 for the prohibition of the use of biological weapons."

The second calls for "adoption of a recommendation to the General Assembly concerning the simultaneous admission to membership in the United Nations of all 14 states which have applied for such admission."

These innocent-sounding phrases brought an immediate charge that the Soviet delegate was trying to exploit whatever propaganda remains in their "false charges" on germ warfare. He said the United States welcomed the opportunity to show up the charges.

Western delegates generally agreed with this view. They conferred yesterday, but would not discuss what counter moves, if any, they had in mind.

The new Malik move obviously was aimed at the United States, the only one of the major Western powers which has not ratified the Geneva Protocol and the leader of the fight against the Soviet proposal at the last Assembly to admit all 14 applicant nations.

The germ warfare charges already have been aired thoroughly in the U. N. Disarmament Commission. There Malik asserted the Geneva Protocol because it had failed to use this type of warfare in Korea.

Benjamin V. Cohen, speaking for the U. S., replied that President Washington following. All 14 Idaho delegates are listed in the Taft camp, while 20 of the 24 Washington delegates are regarded as favorable to Eisenhower.

Montana delegates originally were on the Eisenhower schedule for this afternoon, but this date was stricken by headquarters last night without explanation.

At Broadus, Mont., chairman Ashton Jones of the Montana delegation, said he had received no invitation to meet Eisenhower.

"And if I had received one, I would have been too busy to go," said Jones, one of seven Taft supporters on the eight-member delegation.

Ex-Gov. Sam C. Ford at Helena, Mont., said he knew nothing of any Denver meeting although he is a delegate.

'Pat and Mike' Teams Tracy and Hepburn

What is undoubtedly the most star-studded group of athletes ever assembled for a motion picture is the million-dollar sports lineup featured with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn in M-G-M's new romantic comedy, "Pat and Mike," opening Sunday at the Sanger Theater.

Appearing as "themselves" are Gusie Moran, Don Budge, Alice Marble and Frank Parker from the tennis world, Hake Diddrikson Zuharias, Betty Hicks, Beverly Hanson, Helen Dettweiler and Joe Niekirk of golf fame, baseball favorites Chuck Connors and Pinky Woods, former featherweight champ Sammy Shack and basketball star Lou Muesel. Also involved in the picture, as Miss Hepburn's coach, was Evelynne D. Smith, women's judo and wrestling champion.

High sports moments of the film in which Miss Hepburn enacts an all-around woman athlete sponsored by promoter Tracy, are a mixed double tennis match pairing Miss Hepburn with Frank Parker and Gusie Moran with Don Budge; single matches with Alice Marble and Chuckie Moran as Miss Hepburn's respective opponents; and golf tournament play involving Miss Hepburn, Helen Dettweiler, Babe Diddrikson Zuharias and Beverly Hanson.

The story of "Pat and Mike" was written by Ruth Gordon and Garson Kanin, was directed by George Cukor and was produced by Lawrence Weingarten, the quartet responsible for the earlier Tracy-Hepburn comedy hit, "Adam's Rib."

Prisoner Moving Is Now Complete

Koje Island, Korea, June 20 (AP) — The Army said tonight all major shuffling of Red prisoners of war on Kojido Island is complete.

The Kojido command, under Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, said well over 70,000 prisoners had been shifted in 11 days.

Truman had withdrawn the protocol from the Senate in 1947 after it had become evident that the paper pledge approach had become obsolete.

"There had been too many incidents of treaty violations which have been concealed under the covering technique of the big lie," Cohen said.

On the membership issue, the Paris Assembly insisted that each country must be considered separately on its own merits.

Rhee Opponents Named Chairmen

Pusan, Korea, June 19 (AP) — Three strong opponents of President Syngman Rhee were elected temporary chairmen of the National Assembly today with the support of pro-Rhee and middle-of-the-road members.

The move was interpreted as a gesture aimed at encouraging anti-Rhee assemblymen to support a compromise solution to the republic's political crisis.

The three men elected are re-acting Chairman P. H. Hinkley, and two vice chairmen, Cho Bong Am and Kim Dong Ung. Each of the 132 assemblymen present voted for them.

The compromise plan, supported by Prime Minister Chang Taikang and his assembly following, as well as by pro-Rhee lawmakers, would provide for election of the President by the people rather than by the Assembly. It would give South Korea a two-house congress.

Both measures have been demanded by Rhee, who faced almost certain defeat if the Assembly retained its powers to pick a President when Rhee's four-year term expires this month.

As a concession to the Assembly, the compromise also would employ the legislature to overthrow the cabinet.

Chang's followers say they have nearly enough support to push the compromise through.

Slavs Near a Break With Bulgaria

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, June 19 (AP) — Yugoslavia was only one step away from a complete break with her hostile neighbor Bulgaria today, following recall of all but one member of the Yugoslav Embassy staff in Sofia.

Premier Marshal Tito anti-Soviet government decided to strip the embassy of its regular staff because Bulgaria rejected three formal notes protesting the alleged kidnapping of an embassy employee the official Belgrade radio said yesterday.

Yugoslavia's patience has become exhausted the radio explained. A single attaché was left behind in Sofia to take care of current business. Although the ambassador had been withdrawn previously, a full complement of embassy personnel had been kept in Sofia.

Arkansans Attend 4-H Club Meet

They are: Barbara Ann Kiel, Hot Springs; Lou Alice Tyree, Prescott; Bobby McKnight, Parkin; and Van Thomas, McCrory.

New Type of Tourist on March in '52

By SAM DAWSON

New York, June 20 (AP) — Another bumper crop is in the making. By surface ship and airliner the United States is sending a record 750,000 of its citizens off to see other parts of the world.

They will leave from 600 million to one billion Yankee dollars abroad. Steamship lines and transatlantic air carriers report they are booked solid eastbound into August, with heavy bookings westbound into October.

A new type of American tourist is on the march this year. He is the quickie, economy-minded tourist taking advantage of a 3-weeks fast vacation to fly coach service to Europe.

Airlines also report there is a marked tendency toward traveling in small groups—families, teachers, students, more white-collar workers than ever before. For more than two-thirds it's their first flight over the ocean. Americans in their forties are the largest age group.

The U. S. Office of International Trade reports that last year just went over 700,000 Americans went abroad for a new record. This year the office predicts 750,000 tourists will see a new mark. It does not include trips to Canada, Mexico and the U. S. possessions in its travel estimate.

The government officials think three things cause the great rush: Americans have larger savings on which to draw, more of them are getting paid vacations and lower transportation rates are bringing European travel within the reach of a new class of tourists.

Transportation officials credit Margaret Truman with a big assist. When the President's daughter goes to Europe, other Americans lose their fear of an early war's starting.

Four new trans-Atlantic liners will be on the ocean. The new liner, the United States, is our country. France is starting its Flan-dre and Holland its Maasdam. Late in the year the Italian liner Andrea Doria will enter the service.

Surface ships carried about 200,000 passengers, both ways, last year. Airlines flew some 300,000, both ways. This year, with new capacity, the airlines hope to carry 500,000.

Lion Machinists Settle Strike

El Dorado, June 20 (AP) — The strike of AFL Machinists at the El Dorado Chemical plant apparently has been settled and efforts are continuing to end a walkout of CIO oil workers.

Ed Morris, president of the Machinists' Local 224, said last night that an agreement has been reached between 250 members of the craft and Lion. He said a contract terms of which were not disclosed would be signed with the company today.

Company officials said they had not learned of the machinists' action. The machinists struck in May for a 15-cent across the board wage increase and other benefits.

Robert Goss, international representative of the oil workers, said 600 members still are on strike but another negotiation meeting was set for this afternoon and meeting of the membership night.

The oil workers also want money.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

Gray Austen, stretching back comfortably in her deep chair, "Took a lot of elimination to get just the right girls, and then how they turned out after all!"

"My dear child, they fell in love with him."

"Well, thank goodness that's over with."

"The doorknob rang, and Abby whined.

"Still misses her," said Hildreth. "So she hasn't come back for the rest of her clothes! I suppose we'll have to send them on eventually. Will you—"

"Oh, of course I will."

They relaxed, but after a minute she asked, looking towards the ante-room: "I wonder who that can be? Why doesn't Norah—"

Five people came directly into the library from the hall; a big weathered-looking man in a pin-stripe suit, a well-dressed businessman type, and three in uniform—two men and a woman. These last waited just inside the doors; the two others came forward. Abby barked once, half-heartedly, confused by numbers.

"Jerome Austen and Hildreth Austen," the big man said, "I am an officer of the law, and this gentleman is from the district attorney's office. I have a warrant here for your arrest, and the charge at present is conspiracy with one Thomas Bayles to defraud the heirs of the Charles Gray Austen estate, and embezzlement of the estate funds over a period of three years and ten months. Bayles—"

Jerome had got to his feet; he was holding himself erect by gripping the back of his chair. Hildreth, crouching back as if to hide herself.

"That little rat—" Jerome's voice was only half audible.

"He couldn't very well help himself, Austen," said the big man.

"We took the brace off him and X-rayed his knee; and he's walking around as lively as anybody. Now we don't want any trouble at all. His squadron commander got in this morning, Gray Austen's is on the way, and we have all the proof we need of the impersonation without them or the rest of the evidence. We have a policeman here to go up and help your sister get ready, and two men to do the same by you."

The policeman came up and helped Hildreth Austen to her feet. Gamadge, Lieutenant Nordhall and Sergeant Ryder had watched proceedings from a distance; they were grouped modestly in the drawing room, whence they had a good view of the procession up the stairs. Norah was watching it too; she had come up from the basement to stand away against the banisters, her face yellowish in the dim light.

Nordhall addressed his companions briskly: "So that's that. Now we'd better get busy on the capital charge, and as time to—"

"Did you find out who those Malcoms are?"

"Yes, he's some kind of a writer all right. It's not so funny, their taking her in; people will do anything for extra help these days."

"Oh, how fortunate we were."

"Fortunately to get rid of Tommy Bayles and all kinds of his mob-riggers. It was on the cards to humiliate him a little, but good Lord what types he picked."

"He didn't have much choice."

Wells Accused
of Signing
Petition Names

Little Rock, June 20 (AP) — A Memphis handwriting expert has accused a Little Rock publisher of signing about 130 names to petitions which seek referral of the 1931 Purchasing Act to a popular vote.

Linton Godown said, in his opinion, John F. Wells had written all 130 signatures. Wells is publisher of the Arkansas Recorder, a governmental news digest. He sponsored the move to refer the act, which was backed in the 1931 session by the administration.

Opponents of a popular vote on the measure have questioned validity of the signatures.

Petitions which contained the allegedly fraudulent signatures
came from Bell, Boone, Crittenden, Grant and Hot Spring counties. Godown, of Memphis, exhibited about 1,300 challenged
signatures, including the names of State Senators Lamar L. Rodgers
of West Memphis, G. C. Cranes
of Stuttgart and Edwin Cash of Malvern.

Attorneys representing the opponents completed the bulk of their case yesterday with Godown's testimony.

Reds Try to Justify Squeeze

Berlin, June 20 (AP) — The Russians claim that recent Communist moves to seal off West Berlin
from the surrounding Soviet zone
were justified on security grounds
because the Allied sectors of the city have become a "hotbed" of spies.

The charge was made last night
by Gen. Vasily I. Chuikov, chief of the Soviet Control Commission for Germany, in rejecting a recent American-British-French protest against the Reds' restrictive
measures.

Chuikov's answer, released
through the East German ADN
news agency, said the Allied objections were "entirely without
support."

Little Change
in Weather
Picture

By The Associated Press
The nation's weather showed little change today, continuing warm
and humid over most of the southern half of the country.

A spell of hot weather in the eastern states ended yesterday
with arrival of a cool front that covered most of the northern tier
of states from the Rockies eastward. Thunderstorms with wind gusts up to 70 miles an hour hit
New York City and other eastern cities.

It was near freezing early today
in Cadillac, Mich., with a low of 36. At the same time it was 84
in Phoenix, 81 in Dallas, 79 in Kansas City, 76 in New Orleans and Atlanta, 75 in Miami, 69 in Washington, 61 in New York, 57

Showers and thunderstorms were reported in several areas, including the upper Mississippi and Missouri Valleys southward into Kansas. Other wet spots were in Georgia, Montana and Wyoming. A tornado hit Lisco, a small community in western Nebraska, last night, demolishing the North Central Gas Company's regulator house. No injuries were reported.

Summer will begin officially tomorrow at 5:13 a.m. (CST).

State Traffic

Little Rock, June 20 (AP) — A
total of 37 traffic fatalities in May brought the state's toll for the year to 165 — 29 above the first five months of 1931.

DOROTHY DIX

Should They Tell All?

Dear Miss Dix: A divergence of opinion has arisen between my girl friend and me which is causing considerable trouble. I firmly believe that a man should know, without reservation, everything that has happened in the past of the woman he loves and intends to marry. Likewise, he should offer unrestrained and unlimited revelations of his own past.

The basic concept of matrimony is unreserved trust. It is trust and unselfish devotion that make marriage a success. The element of suspicion should never enter marriage, and suspicion can best be eliminated by complete confidence.

My fiancée, on the contrary, and much to my keen regret, maintains that whatever has taken place in the past has no bearing on the future and should not be discussed.
She contends that the action of each partner are of concern to the other only from the time they met. To me her stand is preposterous.

Don't you agree with me that marriage partners should keep no
secrets from each other, concerning the past, present or future?

Answer: Aren't you being a bit suspicious in your arguing? You decry "suspicion," the proceed, with your insistent demand to know
every detail of your fiancée's life
before she knew you, to prove that you are void of any semblance of trust!

It's Against Human Nature
It would indeed be wonderful if two people — any two people —
could be so completely one that they knew every blessed thing about the other. Such a Utopian idea simply is not consistent with human nature. Few of us are willing to share every secret thought every trivial action, every daydream, with anyone else. Genuine trust would appreciate the delicacy
of respecting another's privacy, and would hesitate to intrude on the inmost facts of another's life. Insistence on delving almost surgically into the heart and soul of someone else, is, to my mind, suspicious
— not trust.

If you carry into marriage your firm conviction of knowing everything that happens to your wife,
everything she thinks and does,
you will be a nagging jealous, petty husband of the worst kind. You will insist on reading every letter
she receives, knowing the details
of every telephone call, the word-
by-word description of every visit.
Rather a sorry prospect for your fiancée, isn't it? If your morbid absorption in your girl friend's past
is based on suspicion that her conduct may not always have been as completely above reproach as you would have it, you had best drop
the subject and the engagement.

tive on life, and a more balanced personality for yourself, learn to discriminate between your suspicions and a good definition of faith. For the latter, I recommend the second chapter of St. Paul's epistle to the Hebrews, eleventh verse.

Dear Miss Dix: The boys in our school are very self-conscious about not having cars to take the girls on dates. They won't take us out unless they have a car, and we don't mind walking at all. How can we convince the boys that cars
aren't necessary. We are 16 and 17.
A. M.

Answer: It's absolutely ridiculous for boys that age to depend
so much on cars that they refuse to go out without one. Parents should restrict the use of cars to special occasions for boys this age. If the boys refuse to take you out without benefit of motor transportation, you may be sure they are more interested in making an impression on friends than in enjoying the companionship of a nice girl. Until their attitudes do change, you girls should leave them alone even though it means going to movies by yourselves for a while.

Dear Dorothy Dix: For two successive summers my husband and I have entertained a couple, old friends of ours, at our bungalow
for week ends and occasionally a whole week. Last year they made new friends, and now spend their time with these people. While they were staying with us they left some clothing and other articles at our bungalow where they have been for two years. How can we approach this couple and ask them
to come for their things without offending them, as we hold no
grudge against them?

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler
Copyright, 1952
By King Features Syndicate.

In all the palaver over President Truman's hand-made emergency in the steel industry, the fact that Truman and the union deliberately made the emergency has been overlooked entirely. The steel companies made no demands on the union. The union made demands on the companies. Truman then resorted to a familiar device which
F. D. Roosevelt often had employed, the appointment of a local board with a pretense of even-balance between the conflicting interests, with knowledge that the board would decide in favor of the union. Of course, the companies should not have permitted
themselves to be drawn into such a situation. They should have refused to deal with this kangaroo
court, and their propaganda should have concentrated on the fact that Truman and the union were alike, taking advantage of a terrible war, to which Truman himself had committed the people of the United States to try to solve all industry.

This was a Fascist trick but probably, in the long run, if not-thing happened to retard them in their course, Truman and his political partner in the union could have given us communism rather than fascism. There is not much difference, but Truman and his friends abhor fascism by name
but are close to communism. Many of them in fact are Communists in philosophy and are friendly to Soviet Russia. The Hiss case and the atom bomb traitors convey this preference. There is more of treason in communism than there is in fascism because there is an international Communist organization, directed from Moscow, which has the avowed purpose of destroying our government. There is no such Fascist organization with a similar purpose.

During the war we had a master case in the seizure of Montgomery Ward in Chicago by an army detail under a major present, attended by a colonel present, who was a member of the CIO. Sewell Avery, the chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward, refused to yield the company's property to Roosevelt's army of occupation and made the general
make himself ridiculous by ordering his soldiers to carry out a sedentary old one-man insurrection. These soldiers had been called from their normal pursuits by Franklin D. Roosevelt to fight a foreign foe and now they found themselves counting socks
and shirts and all the stuff of a general mail-order merchandise
business merely because the CIO
had made demands which Avery
would not grant.

The colonel press-agent did his best to make the situation seem less nasty than it was. He was Abe H. Raskin, a reporter on union matters for the New York Times, and a member of the newspaper guild, of the CIO. The guild has been a blood-red Communist front for many times in many places and Roosevelt's wife joined
it when it was at its reddest, although she was not eligible under its constitution. She just wouldn't stay out. Raskin was not one of the build Communists nor did he color
his stuff too much for a man in his curious position in the seizure and "occupation." Later he went to Europe, following up the fighters as press officer for a lot of unioners who had absolutely no legiti-mate business chattering up the scene, inasmuch as all the unions
did back home was blackmail the people of the United States by thousands of strikes. After the war,
Raskin went back to the times.
Recently, he reported, of all things,
that the union racketeers were becoming uneasily aware that understandable characters from the underworld were filtering into the noble labor movement.

This seizure caused a commotion
but Roosevelt did have an actual war on his hands whereas Truman had pulled the rug from under himself in advance by instigating
his Korean disturbance was just a case of disorderly conduct calling for police action.

But, in both cases, the proposition is the same, namely this: That any union can create a "labor controversy" at any time simply by making extravagant demands. If the industry does not yield, it may be seized by the national government. A "labor controversy" may arise if some respectable employer throws some dirty rat downstairs for pinching the female help.
Any dispute between any representative of the company and any member of the union over anything is legally a "labor controversy."

Francis Biddle, Roosevelt's attorney general, one of those peculiar Philadelphia Biddles, wrote an opinion that under his "aggregate
any facility" in order to keep it's
opinion that under his "aggregate
war powers" Roosevelt could seize any facility in order to keep it
in operation for the "war effort"
whenever a "labor controversy"
arose.

It was impossible to imagine anything that was not a "facility".
But the public seemed not to realize that a union might kick up
a controversy for the deliberate
purpose of throwing a company
into the government's hands. The chances for looking by crooked bureaucrats from, say, Missouri, and for stealing trade secrets, such as
lists of customers and confidential
files, need no elaboration here.

Here is another interesting possibility that has never been touched upon by the covert Washington

A Good Catch at Narrows

Bass fishing at the Narrows Lake near Murfreesboro improves with each passing day as the Chambliss family of Nashville say after making a good haul of this string of 30 pounds of fighting bighorn. David Chambliss, and daughter, Betty Lowery of Little Rock at the left and Janice Chambliss of Nashville, right, hauled the bass in on minnows recently. The fishing family had three big days in succession on the two-year old fishing ground in the Ouachita Mountains.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

New York, June 19 (AP) - If Ben Hogan had won his fourth championship, we would have placed him without hesitation upon
the same golfing pedestal with Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen
and would have been prepared to defend our conviction with fervor.
Perhaps it is as well that the fierce little competitor failed to bring it off.

Our feeling was — and still is —
that Ben has won his triumphs
over more good golfers than his two great predecessors were called upon to overcome.

Even so, and with some reluctance, we are willing to abandon the battle before it might have begun. We have been reading up on Jones and Hagen in Gene Sa-razen's book "Thirty Years of Championship Golf," and squire has swayed us. There is a sneaking feeling that either Bobby or Walter, given the advantage Hogan held at the halfway point at Dallas, would never have let it get away.

It seems doubtful that Hogan
will have another such chance at his fourth Open crown, the one which would irrevocably have set him in a class above the others of the modern group. Ben, like his chief rivals of the past decade, is crowding old, and next year they are inaugurating a 36-hole qualifying test on the two days preceding the Open to take the starch out of aging limbs.

If it is, indeed, the end of some sort of era, then the reader may be interested in Sarazen's estimate and ranking of the players he has seen in his long and brilliant career.

Gene places Jones and his one-time bitter rival Hagen on an ab-

Strong Field in Arkansas Amateur Meet

By CARL BELL
North Little Rock, June 19 (AP)
Arkansas' top golf show—the 5
Amateur Tournament—began Friday run at Sylvan Hills Country Club today with all indication
it being a boom.

It isn't because of the
wave that has gripped Arkansas weekends, either. The field of title contenders shaped up as one of the strongest in history.

Ross Collins of the Monticello senior who also holds the Arka-Open and National Left-hand
crown, is favored to win
third state amateur championship in a row. But no one expects job to be an easy one and he isn't an upset.

Among those hoping to under the lean defending champion
transplanted Texan who is athletic director at Arkansas A. M.
College, are former champions J.
J. Buzick of Jonesboro, Vineen
lison of Ft. Smith and Ric-(Bubba) Smart of Pine Bluff, latter a 3-time winner.

Also on hand are Paul O.
the chunky El Dorado who has been runner-up Collins and two years; Ted Darragh and McCroarty of Little Rock, both of whom have been shooting up
golf in practice rounds; Gen-
golf, the hot and cold camp-
from Texarkana, and other
final championship contenders.

Today's 18-hole qualifying served a double purpose. It only determined the 31 who
who will make the champi-
fight, for which Collins is qu-
automatically, but also desig-
members of the amateur
which will play against the pros in the Arkansas Cup Ma-
next month. The 20 low
today make up the team.

Early arrivals found the yard, par 71 course sunbake
fast in tune-ups yesterday,
greens were not in bad con-
but the firmwax gave the
long roll.

Match play will get under tomorrow morning. Matches
cover the 18-hole route until day's final, which is sched-
ed 30 or more if necessary.

Formation of New Lake Scheduled

formation of Lake Ouachita
man-made lake under consi-
of 40,000 acres of land now
of here—is scheduled to be
three weeks.

James R. Stephens, resid-gineer on the Blakely Ma-Dam project, said the 32.6-dollar project will produce
several times the combine
of Lakes Hamilton and Cayuga.

ARKANSAS-LOUISIANA
Gives Partial Report
Little Rock, June 18 (AP) — The Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. submitted a partial report on its operating expenses yesterday to the Arkansas Public Service Commission in accordance with the PSC's recent inquiry.

The PSC requested data from all utilities operating in national advertising expenses, from large material purchased contracts, entertainment expenses, legal fees and expenses of the Companies and their officials.
The gas firm supplied its operating information for 1950, but PSC Commissioner John R. Thompson said the company also had been asked to answer the questionnaire for 1951 and the first four months of 1952.

Earlier yesterday the Southwest Gas and EJJ-IFB Co. filed a partial report of its expenses. However, the PSC asked for more complete information. Southwestern requested 30 additional days in which to return the completed questionnaire.

NO DEMAND
Washington, June 19 (AP) — Communities usually clamor for 10-mil. lion-dollar federal project but the Senate approved one yesterday the government may have trouble finding a home for.

The sum was approved for a laboratory to investigate foot and mouth and other animal diseases. Some places already mentioned as sites have expressed downright hostility.

Washington, June 19 (AP) — One of the never-ending wonders of Washington is the amount of virtue claimed by both sides in a controversy. The most recent example is the dispute over postmaster.

Under the present system postmasters of the first, second and third class are chosen by the President, provided the Senate approves. The Senate can kill his appointments. President Truman has asked Congress to change this.

He suggested that all postmasters be put under civil service in such a way that the President and the Senate would have nothing to say about appointments at all. He said the postmaster general, a member of his Cabinet, should make them.

The Senate rose in its wrath yesterday and said "No." So the system stays as it's always been. This power over the selection of postmasters, with all the political patronage involved, was too much for the senators to let go.

Sen. McClellan, Arkansas Democrat, said the President's plan, although 93 per cent of all government workers are under civil service, would "destroy the democratic process that keeps the government close to the people."

This was really putting senatorial power and political patronage on a high plane. Senators favoring the plan went up to a pretty high plane too. They said the plan would be the biggest advance in civil service reform in 70 years.

Plenty of Virtue, Both Sides Claim

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 19 (AP) — One of the never-ending wonders of Washington is the amount of virtue claimed by both sides in a controversy. The most recent example is the dispute over postmaster.

Under the present system postmasters of the first, second and third class are chosen by the President, provided the Senate approves. The Senate can kill his appointments. President Truman has asked Congress to change this.

He suggested that all postmasters be put under civil service in such a way that the President and the Senate would have nothing to say about appointments at all. He said the postmaster general, a member of his Cabinet, should make them.

This was really putting senatorial power and political patronage on a high plane. Senators favoring the plan went up to a pretty high plane too. They said the plan would be the biggest advance in civil service reform in 70 years.

Sen. Eastland, Mississippi Democrat, may have come closer to the reality when he said that if the Senate approved "postmasters still will be politically selected."

An impressive Father's Day program was given at Mt. Olive Baptist Church, East of Hope, Sunday, June 15, honoring Deacon George Smith Sr.

Mr. Smith has been a Deacon of this church for the past 49 years and had just recently celebrated his 83rd birthday anniversary.

Deacon Smith was the recipient of many useful gifts from the congregation in honoring him for the many years of faithful work and attendance.

Rev. Jackson, pastor, gave a very interesting Father's Day message.

Mrs. Bessie C. Morris of Battle Creek, Mich., and Mrs. Fannie McElvene of Richmond, Calif., was the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Plenary Wednesday.

Arthur Pickens of Los Angeles, has arrived to spend a few days with his wife and children and his mother, Mrs. Rachel Pickens.

Mr. and Mrs. Love Walker of St. Louis, are visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Love Walker and Mr. and Mrs. James Royster spent Tuesday in Texarkana visiting friends.

School Head Outlines Plan for Peace

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., June 18 (AP)—Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College, today outlined anew his four-point program for permanent peace.

One of them is a genuine understanding among the peoples of the world, he said in a speech prepared for delivery at the 27th annual convention of the National Fertilizer Association.

"We must come to understand peoples of other nations and cultures as people—their histories, problems and hopes," Eisenhower said. "This kind of understanding does not exist today in any nation."

The Penn State president, who is a brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, said that peace also hinges on enlightened economic co-operation. He added that perhaps the most serious money problem in the world is the relationship of the dollar and sterling areas.

Something should be done about the racial lack of balance in imports and exports between the two, Eisenhower declared.

"A third phase must be political co-operation to settle those disputes, which might break into open warfare," he said.

The efforts of diplomats must be buttressed by the United Nations or a strengthened United Nations.

The fourth area of his peace offensive involves power, Eisenhower explained, adding:

"If we have adequate power it usually does not have to be used. But there can be no peace without it. The United Nations should be equipped with a world police force to put down aggression."

Eisenhower outlined his plan in a similar speech at Johns Hopkins University several weeks ago. He spoke here at closing sessions of the association's convention.

Mrs. Taft to Go to Convention

Washington, June 19 (AP) — Mrs. Robert A. Taft will be at the Chicago convention to cheer her husband on in his fight for the Republican presidential nomination.

An experienced campaigner who loves politics and speechmaking, Martha Taft suffered a stroke two years ago and has had to play a sideline role—mostly in a wheelchair—in the Ohio senators' biggest campaign of all.

Taft said yesterday he and his wife plan to fly to Chicago together July 5. Mrs. Taft has been able to walk a little with a cane lately. She hopes to get back into action in Chicago.

UN Forces Impress British Official

Edmonton, Alberta, June 19 (AP) — Britain's defense minister, Field Marshal Earl Alexander says, teamwork among United Nations forces in Korea is impressive and any British criticism of the war's conduct there is "absolutely unjustified."

Flying in last night from a week's visit to Japan and the Korean front Alexander told a 10-minute press conference he was "very favorably impressed with the whole layout" in Korea.

Senate Group in Closed Door Meet

Washington, June 19 (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee was called into a closed-door session today to decide what to do about a House passed bill boosting social security payments.

Democratic Leader McFarland of Arizona said he would make every effort to get Senate action on the bill before Congress adjourns.

Passed by the House two days ago, the bill would boost retirement benefits to some 4 1-2 million persons by $5 a month or 12 1-2 per cent, whichever is larger.

Three More Highway Job Bids Sought

Little Rock, June 18 (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Department has added three more projects to the list on which bids will be received June 25.

The new jobs bring the total estimate value of contracts to be let to more than 3.7 million dollars. The new projects, which will be financed solely with state money, are:

Conway, Faulkner and Pope Counties: 5.7 miles resurfacing streets in Morrilton and Russellville and from Gleason to Conway.

Conway County: two miles of gravel base and bituminous surfacing, junction of Highway 9—south road highway.

Pope County: 5.9 miles of crushed stone base course and bituminous surface treatment; Atkins—North road, Highway 105.

The only result will be to deprive the Senate of passing on them."

There's no law saying the postmaster can't consult the local politicians and with congressmen and senators on a candidate for postmaster. He could still do it, even if the Senate voted to cut itself and the President out of the picking.

The postmaster general alone now picks postmaster of the fourth class without the President or the Senate as a whole getting in on the act. So if the Senate approves the President's plan, the postmaster general could do with the first, second and third class postmasters what he's free to do with the 4th class.

Eye-Dropper Religion

A MAN with an eye-dropper may be respected when he has a small bottle of medicine to be applied in small doses. But it is not proper in the realm of religion. "The mercy of God is an ocean divine, A boundless and fathomless deep," an eye-dropper is a poor conveyor of such richness and abundance. We are heirs of infinite goodness and grace; the everlasting God seeks to pour into our souls His lavish gifts of grace and goodness. How poor and how unfortunate is that life that will take the Father's bounty only by the eye-dropper method!

But isn't that the way too many of us accept our religion? The great Book with its eighty volumes (including the Apocrypha in the Pulpit Bible) lies before us for our reading, our enjoyment and profit. How much time do we take out of the twenty-four hours to dedicate to its reading? The great Father God seeks to talk to us through the varied ministries of the world of beauty, through the noble living of saintly souls, through the rich services of the Church. How faithfully and well do we listen for the divine Voice? The best thoughts of earth's truest citizens have been inscribed in great books and placed near us in the libraries of our towns and cities. How much of our thought has been taken from these fountains of inspiration?

Are you and I only 'eye-droppers' in the field of education and culture and religion? Are we too easily satisfied with good things which God has offered us in such abundance? Let's live greatly and richly. Why not make the whole world our home, attend our church and be citizens of the kingdom of God?

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are schooled with benevolence and that family and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today desire that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we the officers of state should go to the church of our choice with our children and go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" is a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
